CARRANZA IS ARBITER OF MEXICO

Nation's Fate in His Hands; Now Thought Carbajal Will Turn Over Control to Him

WASHINGTON AWAITS ACTION BY CARRANZA

Will Support Him if He Decides on a Government for All of the People

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Mexico's fate is considered in high circles today to be in Carranza's hands. President Carbajal is expected to speedily turn over to him the control of affairs. Carranza must establish a stable government that will receive the recognition and the respect of the world or it will be another partisan rule which cannot long survive. The Washington administration is awaiting his choice. From sources close to President Wilson it is learned that the president, anticipating Huerta's resignation, was already determined on a line of action. It was stated that he will not recognize a Mexican government that does not represent all the people or one not pledged to re-establish a constitutional government as rapidly as possible.

It was learned also that the powers will withhold recognition until it is granted by America. A conciliatory attitude will be insisted upon from Carranza if he desires American support. If he establishes a military dictatorship he will not be recognized. If he takes a broad stand, protects foreigners and shows a disposition to act for all the Mexican people, the Washington administration will use its influence to secure a loan for him enabling a prompt reorganization of his government, placing it on a stable financial footing. It is not believed Carbajal will seriously oppose the Constitutionalists. Judge Douglas, Carranza's attorney here, told Secretary of War Garrison that there will be no further trouble if Carbajal steps aside, but if he tries to imitate Huerta, Carranza will attack the capital. Huerta's resignation, it is understood, is not a result of the Niagara Falls peace conference. It is pointed out that Carbajal is Huerta's personal selection and as such cannot be recognized by America.

BOALT CHARGE DISPROVED, SAYS NAVAL INQUIRY BOARD

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The Naval Board of Inquiry which investigated charges by Newspaper Correspondent Boalt that Ensign William Richardson had practiced what was equivalent to the Mexican law of flight at the capture of Vera Cruz, found the accusation unfounded, according to a message to the Navy Department from Admiral Badger. The department issued a statement saying the inquiry was exhaustive, showing conclusively that Boalt's statement was false. He said Admiral Badger was sending all the papers in the case by mail.

Because Boalt failed to prove his charges, it is believed here that the original order for his deportation will be ordered.

Papers in Boalt Case Asked for WASHINGTON, July 16.—The Senate today adopted the Poinsett resolution calling on the secretary of state to submit all the papers in the case of Frederick L. Boalt, Press correspondent at Vera Cruz, who was technically arrested following his sending out a story to the effect that American marines had fired on unarmed fleeing Mexicans at the time of the occupation of Vera Cruz.

MRS. KINKAID IS ILL AT SAN JOSE

Authorities Refuse to Remove Her to Auburn—Dr. Fay Comes to Her Aid

SAN JOSE, July 16.—Ill in bed where she has lain since the birth of a daughter one month ago, Mrs. R. I. Kinkaid, charged with the responsibility of the death of Mrs. Kathleen Bluet at Auburn, will not be taken to Auburn until she recovers. The local authorities here refuse to remove her without specific orders from the Auburn authorities.

AUBURN, Cal., July 16.—Dr. G. Fay, who attended Mrs. Kathleen Bluet, for whose death Mrs. R. I. Kinkaid is held at San Jose, has made the following statement: "Mrs. Bluet died of her burns. She inhaled flame. The external burns were comparatively slight but in such cases death is not unusual."

BLANQUET WAS THE MAN WHO FORCED HUERTA TO RESIGN

(By William G. Shepherd)
VERA CRUZ, July 16.—It was Minister of War Blanquet who forced Huerta to retire from the presidency, according to information received from the capital today. Carbajal accepted the provisional presidency with the understanding that Huerta would resign last Monday. Saturday Huerta began drinking and continued drinking through Saturday evening and Sunday. He then ordered his bodyguard not to follow him, and spent Sunday in the drinking cafes of Chapultepec and El Globo. Twenty secret service men followed him secretly, fearing his assassination. On Monday he was still drinking. On Monday night Carbajal wrote him: "You promised to resign today. I believed you were a man of your word. If you do not resign immediately and leave the capital, I will."

Huerta still refused to act. Carbajal appealed to Minister of War Blanquet, who followed Huerta from cafe to cafe, finally locating him. Blanquet threatened to resign independently, taking the army with him and causing Huerta's arrest. Yesterday morning Huerta finally yielded. It is reported Huerta took with him six million dollars in European drafts.

Federation Will Oppose Proposed Amendment to State Constitution
Equalization Board Refuses to Reduce Assessment on Emery Oil Lease

GROWERS CLAIM CHANGE WOULD HURT INDUSTRIES
AGENT SAYS TAXES $50,000 TOO MUCH

Agricultural Organizations Will Be Invited to Become Affiliated Claims Tax Burden Will Prevent it From Operating Lease at Profit

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—The Farmers and Fruit Growers' Association Federation of Southern California was organized yesterday for the purpose of fighting the proposed eight-hour maximum day amendment to the state constitution. The federation will ask all the agricultural organizations to become affiliated with the federation. It is claimed by the new organization that the passage of the eight-hour amendment would increase the cost of production of citrus and deciduous fruits, as well as of agricultural products.

Officers of Federation
F. O. Story, president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, was elected president of the Farmers and Fruit Growers' Federation; F. O. Wallschlaeger was made secretary and treasurer; H. B. Chase of Riverside, vice president; E. G. Dezell, assistant manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, was elected second vice president, and Pitt Hand was elected as manager.

Mr. Davis admitted that the big well on the Emery lease had produced $800,000 worth of oil in four months, but claimed that royalties and expenses of production took a large part of this. He said the company was being taxed ten per cent of its net profits. Davis said the company had not gotten out of California what it has invested in the state, but was forced to admit that it was making money in Orange county.

ELKS CELEBRATE THE GOLDEN JUBILEE

25,000 Men Marched in Parade at Denver While Vast Crowd Cheered

DENVER, July 16.—Denver closed up shop for several hours today to witness the biggest feature of the Golden Jubilee Reunion of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks which has been in progress here all week. This was the annual parade of all Elks lodges in the United States, always looked forward to as the crowning event of every reunion. Twenty-five thousand members of the order, representing cities in every nook and corner of the United States, participated. For three hours, beginning at 10 a. m. the visiting "Bills" tramped through the downtown streets, through lanes of humanity. It is estimated that of Denver's 235,000 inhabitants, fully half were on hand to see the march. The officers of the Grand Lodge, adjourning their meeting for a few hours, occupied a huge reviewing stand on Fourteenth street near the Municipal Auditorium.

Tonight the streets downtown will be brilliantly illuminated in honor of visitors and a unique open air ball will be staged. A Champa street from Fourteenth to Fifteenth, and Fourteenth street for two blocks will be covered with canvas and the Elks and their ladies will trip the light fantastic to the music of thirty bands. The sessions of the Grand Lodge continued all day and are expected to be brought to a close tonight.

HIGHWAY PROTEST WILL GO TO HEADQUARTERS

County Commission Named as Committee to Investigate and Take Matter to Governor if Necessary

The Orange County Highway Commission, D. C. Pixley, W. T. Newland and Ralph McFadden, and the commission's engineer, Col. S. H. Finley, is a committee appointed by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County to investigate the construction of the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim and between Anaheim and Fullerton, and to take such steps as may be necessary to see that present glaring faults in the road are remedied and that future construction is on a proper basis. The committee is to make a thorough investigation of conditions, secure proper evidence, and then take the matter up with the state engineering department. Should this fail of relief, an appeal is to be made to Governor Johnson.

The committee has the power to employ necessary assistance, and its expenses are guaranteed by the Associated Chambers, should it be found that the county cannot legally assume this burden. The latter contingency is not expected, however.

The matter was taken up at a special meeting of the Associated Chambers, held in the council chamber of the city hall last night. A dozen delegates and about fifty citizens from all parts of the county were present, and intense interest in the matter was shown. In the absence of President Storn and Vice-President Bradford, Secretary Metzgar called the meeting to order and W. A. Zimmerman of Santa Ana was chosen to preside. After the preliminaries the secretary read a letter from President Gustave Stern, who started a few days ago for a trip to Europe. He called attention to the miserable work on the roads in certain sections, and expressed the opinion that the time had come for drastic action. The chair then called for discussions and suggestions.

Lew Wallace wanted an expert opinion from Col. Finley as to the condition of the roads in the sections complained of. Col. Finley explained that he was loath to offer any criticisms on the work for the reason that in view of his position such expressions might be misconstrued. He said, however, that he had seen, as anyone could, that parts of the road between Santa Ana and Anaheim were going to pieces. Mr. Wallace explained that his idea was to get an expert opinion as to the exact condition of that road; whether or not it could be repaired.

R. R. COMMISSION TO PROBE UNITED RAILROADS' VAST LOAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—The State Railroad Commission has issued subpoenas for the present directors and former officials of the United Railroads ordering them to appear Monday to answer questions regarding the sum of $1,096,000 that former President Calhoun took from the road's earnings supposedly to invest in a Solano county farms project. Huerta's Resignation Followed by Choice of Carbajal as President

HUERTA AND BLANQUET ON WAY TO PUERTO MEXICO

Believed Carbajal Will Pave Way for Triumphant Entry of the Constitutionalists

MEXICO CITY, July 16.—General Victoriano Huerta resigned from the provisional presidency of the Mexican Republic last night and his resignation was accepted by the Senate and Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 121 to 17.

Huerta's resignation was submitted through the department of foreign relations. It was read in the House and was greeted with cries of "Viva Huerta." It was then referred to the joint committees of governance.

After brief consideration, the committees reported, accepting the resignation presented by General Victoriano Huerta as President of the Mexican United States.

"Article 2.—We call Licentiate Francisco Carbajal, Minister of Foreign Relations, to assume the presidency."

A ballot was taken and the joint session approved the report. President Carbajal proceeded to the national palace under an escort of presidential guards and all along the way was greeted with tumultuous cheering.

Carbajal Seeks to Placate Factions

Provisional President Carbajal launched a campaign today to placate the various factions within the city. Gen. Huerta's whereabouts today are unknown. He left the city last night in an automobile with former Minister Blanquet and supposedly took a waiting train in the suburbs for Puerto Mexico.

War Supplies for Rebels

JUAREZ, Chihuahua, July 16.—Great quantities of ammunition and supplies to aid Villa's army in its march upon Mexico City were expected to leave Juarez yesterday for the front. Villa himself made all arrangements for the shipments.

Arriving here with his staff, Villa smilingly declared that his trip merely was a pleasure jaunt. It was known, however, that he was busy from the moment of his arrival.

"When Huerta leaves Mexico City I believe it will be forever; he will resign," Villa told questioners.

Villa took advantage of his visit to order the deportation of fifteen Industrial Workers of the World who had been trying to persuade Mexican miners in Chihuahua to strike. He warned them that they would be put to death if they return.

Huerta Heads For Port

VERA CRUZ, July 16.—With all of Mexico that was within reach of the telegraph excited by the mysterious delay of Huerta's train and with various wild reports current as to why it had failed to reach its destination, it arrived at Orizaba tonight several hours late. It was delayed en route on Huerta's personal orders to enable him to sleep. Huerta's destination is Puerto Mexico.

His Family at Puerto Mexico

VERA CRUZ, July 16.—The families of former President Huerta and former Minister of War Blanquet reached Puerto Mexico today. The trip was made without molestation. Their probable future procedure has not been stated, but it is believed they will wait there for the arrival of Huerta and Blanquet.

Word was received later from Puerto Mexico that the British and German cruisers Bristol and Dresden had arrived, presumably to offer transportation to Huerta and Blanquet. The former president's train was somewhere between the capital and the coast as at noon it had not arrived at Orizaba, where it was due five hours earlier. The railroad officials professed to be unaware of the train's whereabouts. Various possibilities were suggested, one being that the train had been attacked.

Federals in the vicinity of Vera Cruz expressed amazement at the failure of Huerta's train to reach Orizaba, the mystery of its whereabouts increasing hourly. Despite his retirement from the presidency Huerta is still head of the Mexican army and some believed that he was on his way to Oaxaca to head a revolt in favor of Felix Diaz. As the commander of the army it was said that he would be able to command a large following among the federal troops.

TWO INJURED IN CLUES LEAD TO EXPLOSION SOLVING OF AT BREA MYSTERY

Natural Gas Catches Fire; Workmen Hurt on Rig 13, Graham-Loftus Lease

Warden Robinson Learns Truth About Deer Found in Auto in Closed Season

(Special Correspondence)
BREA, July 16.—William Hagerston and Joseph Rupp, employees on rig No. 13 of the Graham-Loftus Oil Company's lease, were severely injured as the result of an explosion of natural gas yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. Rupp, the driller on the well, was severely burned. He was knocked over and stunned by the explosion. Although his burns are extremely painful he is in no immediate danger. Hagerston, a derrick man, was ninety feet up on the derrick when the gas exploded. He was forced to slide down a wire cable, his hands being badly lacerated in the descent.

The well was down to a level of 13,000 feet. At this depth a gas pocket was struck and this was set afire by a light on the derrick. It is estimated that it will cost $2000 to rebuild the derrick and otherwise repair the rigging. The Brown & Dausser Lumber Company, which has branches at Brea and Fullerton, began hauling lumber to the damaged oil rig today and the repair work is progressing rapidly.

Brea Jottings
Dan Armitage, who was severely burned in a gas explosion several days ago while at work under a boiler at the Hurst Boiler Works, is reported to be doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

The firm of Craig & Bird was this morning awarded the contract for the building of a one-story brick addition to the general merchandise store of Stern & Goodman. This new addition will double the present capacity of the store.

Brown & Dausser, the lumber dealers, are delivering material to the leases of the Fullerton Great West, the St. Helen and Union Oil Companies. This means that three new wells are about to be drilled here.

The Maccabees announce an open meeting for Friday night. A dance will be the big feature and all visitors will be assured of a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

The Congregational Church, which has had to hold its meetings in vacant store rooms, is rejoicing over the gift made the church of two lots in the Brea Annex tract. The lots were donated by W. J. Hoie, owner of the tract. The church expects to erect a handsome house of worship in the near future.

The vacant room adjoining Salverson's grocery, which has been used by the Congregational Church for revival purposes, has been rented by Mesdames Charles Seane and U. S. Glaze, who will immediately open the store room as a modern and up-to-date dressmaking parlor.

C. N. Keith purchased a lot this week on Orange avenue. He will immediately begin the erection of a handsome five-room bungalow.

Mr. Brown, of the firm of Brown & Dausser, lumber dealers, will attend the regular monthly meeting and banquet of the Orange County Lumber Dealers' Association at the Hollenbeck Hotel, Los Angeles, Saturday evening.

County Game Warden Robinson came within an ace of making a big splurge of a sensation one day last week when he got on the trail of two deer that had been shot out of season—almost.

It was at Anaheim that he got his first hint that something was wrong. Robinson had no more than landed at the Mother Colony when one of the law-abiding citizens rushed up to him and with breathless eagerness announced that in an automobile standing in front of a meat market the day before had been seen two deer! Robinson stood aghast. Two deer in an auto in front of a meat market and out of season at that? Astounding!

Robinson hurried down the street, his eyes blazing fire. He had gone but a short distance when another man stopped him and repeated the tale. Here was proof sufficient, thought Robinson. He quickened his pace.

Arriving in front of the market in question the warden began to make inquiries. Yes, he was told, it was true that the deer had been seen in the gas buggy the day before.

"Can you tell me who the people were who had the deer? No? Well then, maybe you can tell me of some one who talked with the law-breakers?" queried Robinson.

The bystanders shuffled their feet and scratched their heads. Finally the warden brought to light the fact that Deputy Marshal German, of Anaheim, had conversed with the malefactors on the day previous and that if he (Robinson) were to hunt up German the names of the deer owners might be ascertained.

Further questioning brought to light the information that the deputy was at Newport Beach.

Robinson made post haste to Newport. After much trouble he found German.

"Do you know anything about two deer that were seen in an auto in front of a meat market at Anaheim a day or so ago?" asked Robinson.

German replied that he knew a little about them.

"Who owned them?"

"They belonged to a moving picture outfit," said German.

"Did you get the names of the men?"

"No, I did not," came from German.

"Why didn't you?" was the next question Robinson fired at German.

"Well," replied the deputy, gazing dreamily out at the horizon, "I didn't think it was necessary, as the deer were stuffed."

After Robinson recovered consciousness he was heard to mutter feebly, "It's one on me. I was stuffed as well as the deer."

SANTA MONICA OUSTS A WHEEL OF FORTUNE

SANTA MONICA, July 16.—Chief of Police Randall yesterday afternoon stopped the running of a wheel of fortune in the Ocean Park district. Two weeks ago the City Council gave permission for the operating of the wheel on the representation that it was to be operated for merchandise only. Chief Randall says there was an absence of merchandise, but the presence of much that resembled gambling. The place where the wheel was being operated had been fitted up at a cost of $300.

PROGRESS AND PROPERTY AT OLIVE MILLS

The annual stockholders meeting of the Olive Milling Company which was held at the office of that corporation yesterday goes a long way to discourage any idea that Orange county might be affected by a business depression.

The financial statement and secretary's report for the fiscal year ending June 30th showed the mill to be in a very flourishing condition. Their report showed an actual delivery of over five thousand tons of merchandise, being an increase in tonnage of 12 per cent over the previous year, while the net earnings amounted to nearly sixteen per cent on par value capital and surplus now amounts to approximately $100,000.

Among the year's permanent improvements was the building of a very pretty bungalow for the engineer and repairs on a cottage which, with those built previously, provides modern homes for most of the employees.

A conveyor was installed so that wheat is elevated direct from railroad cars into the storage bins without handling, saving much labor and waste.

A large motor truck was purchased which allows expansion of territory and proves so satisfactory that before the year expires all the mile teams will be supplanted by auto trucks.

Upon the foregoing favorable condition of the mill's affairs the directors declared a final dividend of five cents which added to the interim dividend paid last January, made a total of eight per cent on par value of capital stock for the year. The remainder was carried to the surplus account.

Dividend checks are now being prepared by the secretary and will be mailed to shareholders with a copy of the report, on July 20th.

The following well known business men were elected directors and officers for the ensuing year: R. J. Blew, vice president; F. A. Blake, secretary; National Bank of Orange, treasurer; P. W. Ehlen, N. T. Edwards.

FIGHT ON WEEDS IS ON IN ORANGE

After a conference between the street committee of the city council and members of the City Beautiful Association, yesterday afternoon, it was announced that a campaign to compel the cleaning up of vacant property about the city will at once be launched.

The direction of the work will be committed to the City Beautiful Association, which will be backed up by the city council. Steps will at once be taken to compel owners of property now encumbered with weeds and trash to clean it up. The alternative will be to have it cleaned up by the city at the expense of the property owner.

The supervision of the plaza and trees growing in the parking thoroughfare of the city was also delegated to the City Beautiful Association, which will in future direct the planting and cultivation of the plaza and the trimming of the other trees in the parkings.

HELPING COUNTRY LIBRARIES

There will be regret that Andrew Carnegie has issued a denial of the report that he has agreed to give a fund of many millions to help found country libraries. The original statement of this matter brought out the fact that there are still 2200 counties lacking any public library. It is a field needing help quite as much as the many large towns which have already received Mr. Carnegie's generous assistance. It will be hoped, however, that he may still be considering some plan of this kind.

Of course in many of these 2200 counties there are book and magazine clubs. But such informal organizations usually dispose of the volumes at second hand sale. Nothing is accumulated for future years.

Such organizations are also very hit or miss in their methods. Committees on choosing books are formed on the basis of social popularity. Their idea of literary excellence may be the book that advertises with the blackest gothic type.

The selection of books for a community reading calls for the best education and common sense. The reading club committee may look at a standard work like "Quo Vadis," and, seeing the name of Nero, decide that it is history, and they don't want it. They studied all the history they wanted in school. So they buy the froth of the moment, which will be valuable to the junk man a year later. Also it will do to press wild flowers in.

The country library is a part of the machinery necessary to make rural life attractive. With wide awake books, the long evening in the cross roads farm house looks much less lonesome.

The most important thing is a little permanent home, which the Carnegie scheme of giving has always provided. As long as the village book collection is kept in some one's clothes closet or on some fly blown counter in a grocery store, its volumes reflect the transient character of its surroundings. If means can be found to erect a little building, the nucleus of a library takes on the dignity of a permanent home. People become ready to work to make it grow.

THE GRADUATE UP AGAINST THE WORLD

One of the annual jokes at this time relates to the awkward efforts of the newly fledged college graduate in business. It is a cold plunge for a young fellow used to being carried off the ball field on the shoulders of cheering students. Quite a change to walk into an office, and wait an hour to get two minutes curt conversation with a business man, whose name never gets into the papers.

Many observers feel that the break between college life and subsequent work is needlessly abrupt, that a college fellow's work is unnecessarily hampered for years.

Says a college professor: "During college life we drop out of the current of action into a smooth and sleepy eddy. Rather we are tossed by the stream into a Sargasso sea, where the youth spends his time polishing the decorative brasses of the ship."

One should never overlook the disciplinary value of study, when conducted in a way to develop power. But most of the facts learned in any school are forgotten in five years.

The two things that stay are the power to think and to do. If a boy simply sits in a class room and takes notes of lectures, he has some training in memory work, and he acquires a thin varnish of culture. He also should become a more useful citizen, because he ought to absorb a background of the world's experience. The shams of life ought not to deceive him quite as they fool others.

But work of this kind has trained him neither to think nor to do. The teacher must give him some original work not found in any text book. He must think things out for himself, discover things on his own initiative, construct experiments or conclusions out of his own unaided resources. If he acquires this power, life will be transformed for him. The problems of the business office will then be solved as the problems of chemistry or Latin were answered.

Political Statements

Edward Chaffee, of Garden Grove, announces his candidacy for assemblyman, 16th district, subject to nomination by the Prohibition party.

Mr. Chaffee has grown up in Orange county, having lived here for 32 years. He has always been identified with the Prohibition party, has been the secretary of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company for the past six years, and is well known in every part of the county.

Mr. Chaffee has entered the race with a determination to win and says he has every assurance of success. He has the entire Prohibition organization behind him, as well as a host of personal friends who will support him enthusiastically.

There has been some talk among the "drys" about bringing out an independent "dry" candidate by petition, but Mr. Chaffee feels assured that, now he is out for the Prohibition nomination (which he will surely get), no other "dry" candidate will appear, and he will receive the solid support of all anti-saloon voters.

PORTERVILLE WORKS FOR STANDARD ORANGE PACK

PORTERVILLE, Cal., July 16.—First steps toward the standardization of orange packs resulted yesterday in the adoption by the Citrus Association of this district of changes in its by-laws, whereby picking, packing and grading fruit are placed entirely under the control of officials of the association.

Fruit for early markets is to be judged on the basis of palatability and appearance. Under former association rules members were able to pack fruit early in the season, no matter how green or how unsuited to trade demands.

ABOUT NATURAL GAS

(From the Los Angeles Financial News.)

"Natural gas is as variable in its moods as a woman, judging from the bulletin on natural gas put out by P. F. Walker, professor of mechanical engineering for the Kansas State University," says the Topeka (Kansas) Journal. "This bulletin is at present about the last word in natural gas; it deals at some length with the properties, uses and measurements by meters of natural gas in Kansas. As a sample of the way the heating qualities of natural gas ramp around, it might be mentioned that every time the temperature drops ten degrees the number of heat units in that cubic foot increases 18, approximately 1/2 per cent. In other words, a cubic foot of gas will furnish one-tenth more heat units at zero temperature than at 60 degrees.

"Prof. Walker figures that the average cubic foot of gas from the Kansas and Oklahoma fields at a temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit will furnish from 925 to 955 heat units per cubic foot. Then the atmosphere gets in its work on his figures. He tested the heating qualities for a week at constant temperature in March, 1912, and discovered that during seven days the number of heat units to the cubic foot varied from 906 to 927 units, running up and down the scale whenever the barometric pressure touched the weather keyboard.

"By this it would seem that nature is an offender of equal rank with the gas company, in so far as the variations in the ideal heat value of a cubic foot of gas are indicative of the intrinsic value of gas served. At the same time nature tends to offset the lowered gas pressure in the lines during the long-continued cold seasons by reducing the temperature of the gas and thus tending to increase the heat value. The consideration of all these counter-influences seems to lead to the conclusion that varying

Secretary Lane's Great Speech on "The Flag"

Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane of California made an informal talk on Flag Day to the employees of the department which has been hailed as "original and successful in the domain of oratory."

Mr. Lane, in 1900 Democratic nominee for governor of California, then named on the Interstate Commerce Commission by President Roosevelt, reappointed by President Taft and then made Secretary of the Interior by President Wilson, is now first among those mentioned to succeed Justice Lurton on the Supreme Court of the United States. The Flag Day talk, which has made such an impression, was as follows:

This morning, as I passed into the Land Office, the flag dropt me a most cordial salutation, and from its rippling folds I heard it say: "Good morning, Mr. Flagmaker."

"I beg your pardon, Old Glory," I said, "but you are mistaken. I am not the president of the United States, nor the vice president, nor a member of Congress, nor even a general in the army. I am only a government clerk."

"I greet you again, Mr. Flagmaker," replied the gay voice. "I know you well. You are the man who worked in the sweater of yesterday straightening out the tangle of that farmer's homestead in Idaho."

"No, I am not," I was forced to confess.

"Well, perhaps you are the one who discovered the mistake in that Indian contract in Oklahoma?"

"No, wrong again," I said.

"Well, you helped to clear that patent for the hopeful inventor in New York, or pushed the opening of that new ditch in Colorado, or made that mine in Illinois more safe, or brought relief to the old soldier in Wyoming. No matter, whichever you may happen to be, I give you greeting, Mr. Flagmaker."

I was about to pass on, feeling that I was being mocked, when the flag stopped me with these words:

"You know, the world knows, that yesterday the president spoke a word that made happier the future of ten million peons in Mexico, but that act looms no larger on the flag than the struggle which the boy in Georgia is making to win the corn-club prize this summer. Yesterday the Congress spoke a word which will open the door of Alaska, but a mother in Michigan worked from sunrise until far into the night to give her boy an education. She too, is making the flag."

Yesterday we made a new law to prevent financial panics; yesterday, no doubt, a school teacher in Ohio taught his first letters to a boy who will write a song that will give cheer to the millions of our race. We are all making the flag.

"But," I said impatiently, "these people were only working."

Then came a great shout from the flag.

"Let me tell you who I am. The work that we do is the making of the real flag. I am not the flag, not at all. I am but its shadow. I am what ever you make me, nothing more. I am your belief in yourself, your dream of what a people may become. I live a changing life, a life of moods and passions, of heartbreaks and tired

FOR OCCIDENTAL GIRLS

Miss Mildred Taylor Hostess at Pleasing Function Given for House Guests

Miss Mildred Taylor was hostess last night at a pleasant party given at the E-street home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor, in honor of Miss Mildred's house guests, Miss Gladys Boyd of Los Angeles and Miss Faith Acosta of Pasadena, Occidental College girls. Other Occidental girls present besides the hostess and her house guests were Miss Edith Tidball of Santa Ana and Miss Florence Flippin of Orange. Additional guests were Misses Viola and Lucy Hill, Miss Claire McPhee, Miss Irene Catland, Miss Theretta Taylor, Miss Lillian Walker, Messrs Weingarten, Kenneth Smiley, Donald Smiley, Stewart Smith, Carson Smith, Alfred Catland, Charles Tidball, Walter Young.

The parlor was decorated with sweet peas, nasturtiums were used in the living room and daisies adorned the dining room. Music and interesting games passed the evening delightfully, and cake and mint water were served.

Today Miss Taylor and her house guests with Mrs. Taylor and the small sons of the Taylor family motored to Newport Beach where the party enjoyed all the pleasures of the seaside.

Indiana Picnic Today

Hoosier Day arrived at Birch Park today when more than one hundred loyal Indians assembled in that picturesque spot to sing the praises of the land of James Whitcomb Riley, George Ade and other famous people, some of whom live in Santa Ana. The Hoosiers also met to enjoy a royal picnic dinner that was served at noon where fried chicken and all that goes with it overjoyed and satisfied the Hoosier hearts and appetites.

The slight showers of the forenoon had not dampened the ardor of loyalty to good old Indiana, and the ties of friendship existing between all hailing from that splendid state were cemented more firmly than ever by the meeting of today. The dinner hour was enlivened by a characteristic address of welcome from Mayor Ey, who is a cosmopolitan when it comes to greetings. Charles S. Shaw also made a speech and recited one of his store of humorous poems, this one having the euphonious and startling title of "Aunt Jemima's Pants."

The afternoon was given over to a program to which space will be given tomorrow. That the Hoosiers had a merry and profitable reunion is undeniable, for it would be impossible for hoosiers to get together without jollity resulting.

Off on Long Auto Trip

The W. L. James family of 510 East Sixth street left yesterday for Hollywood where they joined the Chas. Baker family in an automobile tour beginning today. The party will go to Yosemite, and later to the border counties in the north, going possibly into Oregon. The trip will consume six weeks or two months.

Clean Temple Theater Show

The Temple Theater put on one of the cleanest and best shows seen in Santa Ana. There were two big picture dramas, "Sergeant," an adaptation from Dickens' "Christmas Carol," and "A Daughter of the Hills," a semi-religious drama of the time of the Apostle Paul and Nero. Both of the pictures were by some of the finest actors and actresses of the present time, from companies of Charles Frohman, Daniel Frohman, the Schuberts, and other world famous producers.

Appropos to the series of pictures is the music furnished by the Temple Theater Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Alice Carrico. The orchestra is composed of five real musicians, comprising pianist, violinist, cornetist, clarinetist and cellist, all of whom have had an abundant experience in the rendering of the better class of music, which is an especial feature of the Temple Theater shows.

As an example of what the public may expect in the way of music the orchestral program of last evening is given: "The Perf. Day," Carrie Jacobs-Bond; "Silver and Gold waltz," Lehar; "Minute," Beethoven; "The Dream," Gollertman; "Spring, Beautiful Spring," Lincke; "Twilight Memories," Sievers; "Egyptian Ballet Suite," Nos. 2 and 3, Luigini; "Venetian Love Song," Nevin; "Vision of Salome," Joyce; "Temple Dance," Grieg; "Figaro's Wedding," Mozart; "Pontifical March," Gounod; "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Samson and Delilah, Saint-Saens; "Intermezzo," from "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni.

Tustin Twelve Meets

Mrs. B. F. Nimmo was the hostess to the Tustin Twelve at its last meeting of the season on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Lyon street. A dainty pink and white color scheme was carried out with lovely roses.

During the afternoon the ladies occupied themselves with fancy work of different kinds and were entertained with vocal and instrumental music rendered by Mrs. Charles Johnson. A dinner and theater party in Los Angeles was planned for the near future.

No more meetings of the club will be held until October, when Mrs. J. E. Pierce will entertain.

Those present at Tuesday's meeting included Misses, Charles Artz, Arthur Hofer, Fred Poole, Albert Fuller, J. E. Pierce, J. S. House, Fred Pollard, E. J. Cranston, L. A. Smith, Fred Morehead, Charles Johnson.

She made many friends in Santa Ana who will be glad to see her return at some future time.

ELECTRIC LINE MAY LINK BREA-ORANGE

FULLERTON, July 16.—There are reasons to believe that the Pacific Electric Railway company contemplates the completion of the link between Brea and Orange. A crew of surveyors were at work today north-east of Fullerton. One of the workmen said that the surveying was being done for a proposed line to connect with the Santa Ana-Orange-Los Angeles line. Nothing is known at Brea of the proposed extension. There is also no information as to whether the railway intends to build the line through Fullerton or through Placentia.

FORMER JURIST OF ORANGE COUNTY OUT FOR STATE SENATE

The Los Angeles Times has the following of Judge J. W. Ballard, who served as Superior Judge of Orange county in the early days of the county:

Former Judge J. W. Ballard, No. 1426 South Union avenue, Los Angeles, candidate for state senator from the Thirty-eighth district, came to California from Illinois in 1863 and cast his first vote in 1864 for Abraham Lincoln, and ever since has been and now is a Republican. He came to Los Angeles county in 1883 and located in Tustin, then a part of this county. Upon the organization in 1889 of Orange county, out of a part of the southeastern territory of Los Angeles county, he was appointed deputy district attorney by Col. E. E. Edwards, district attorney, afterward elected district attorney and Superior judge in that county. About eleven years ago he removed to Los Angeles, entering into the practice of his profession, which he has followed for thirty-two years.

CULLS MUST GO, CITRUS MEN DECIDE

Packers Take Steps Toward Organization to Eliminate Inferior Fruit

Anaheim Gazette: For the purpose of launching a movement toward eliminating cull oranges from the markets in the citrus region and devising some means of turning them into a source of profit, if such be possible, a number of Orange county packers and growers assembled at the packing house of the Anaheim Fruit Association Saturday in response to an invitation recently extended by Manager Sandilands. For many years growers and packers have realized that culls were a source of heavy loss to both classes, and several reasons were advanced why speedy action should be taken toward protection against them. One reason is that they now flood the home markets and supply a demand that should be filled only by first-class fruit. The growers and packing house men, therefore, lose money on what should be their most profitable market. Another reason is that the thousands of tourists from every section of the United States are fed on this inferior cast-off fruit here in the heart of the industry where they are supposed to be offered the best, and return home with the belief that California's reputation for orange growing is overdrawn and that it cannot compare with Florida.

Another object of the meeting was to discuss ways and means of utilizing the cast-off oranges and turning them into a source of profit if such a means could be devised, but this was considered of secondary importance, the primary object being to get them off the market, so that nothing but the best could be offered for sale here. Some of the speakers advocated using them as a fertilizer if it could be done without running a foul of the law which forbids wanton destruction of anything that could be passed as an article of food. Short speeches were made by L. P. Drake, A. F. Pendleton, Thos. Strain, P. H. Krick, G. E. Mills and others, all tending practically in the same direction. Mr. Pendleton said that

OPENS UP NOSTRILS, CLEARS HEAD, ENDS COLDS OR CATARRH AT ONCE

Instantly Relieves Swollen, Inflamed Nose, Head, Throat—You Breathe Freely—Dull Headache Goes—Nasty Discharge Stops
Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-n-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm 500 cars of culls were now sold annually and this amount would undoubtedly increase. The supreme question was should the fruit men declare that no culls should find their way into the market, the disposition of them being of secondary importance. He recommended that a resolution be passed calling for the organization of an association which should include all the persons engaged in the citrus industry in the state. Mr. Strain said that Covina had already taken steps toward elimination of culls and all sections of the belt realized the importance of the step. He thought some definite action should be taken at once and the inferior fruit removed from the market before the opening of the world's fair. L. P. Drake thought if no better solution of the problem offered the rejected fruit should all be destroyed provided the law would permit.

A poll revealed that representatives from seven packing houses were present. As this meeting was only a preliminary step toward something more definite, Mills of Fullerton, moved that a committee of seven, one from each of the houses represented, should be appointed to meet after adjournment, draft a resolution asking every packing house in the state to appoint three delegates to attend a meeting for the purpose of formulating a plan entering into an agreement for the disposition of the culls. This motion was amended, Orange county being substituted for the state, and carried. Chairman Eygabroad appointed C. E. Holcomb and P. H. Krick of Anaheim, W. S. Cullen and Thomas Strain, of Placentia, S. C. Miles of Fullerton, W. H. Smart of Santa Ana, and J. D. Spenetta of Orange on the committee.

RETAIL MEAT PRICES UP 1 TO 3 CENTS IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK, July 16.—Retail prices of meats were raised 1 to 3 cents today in New York city. Dealers state that wholesale prices of beef—now higher than at any time before in twenty years—have increased 4 cents and retail prices 7 cents in three weeks in the New York cattle market. In pork a rise of 20 per cent has been recorded, while mutton alone temporarily has not increased in price.

ANAHEIM WINS ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

Soon Santa Ana Will Be Only City in County Without Them

Ornamental street lights for the central section of Anaheim are now assured. The idea was born in the brain of Postmaster Ahlborn five years ago, but the persons most concerned were slow in coming to its support. Those who favored it from the start, however, have kept it alive, aired it, exhibited it, nourished it, and finally strengthened it until the idea has crystallized into a certainty, and another civic improvement for the Mother Colony is assured. Not only will the ornamental posts and cluster lights adorn the streets, but the unsightly poles will be removed and all wires be placed underground.

The Anaheim Gazette thus tells of the winning fight:
A delegation of property owners within the district accompanied Mr. Ahlborn to the city hall Thursday night while the trustees were in session and reminded that body that a year ago it had agreed to grant the request, to push the matter through, and pay for the posts whenever the property owners were ready to proceed and to pay the cost of installation and all costs aside from the posts. In the party were C. O. Rust, Edgar Hartung, John Ziegler, Frank Shanley, Napoleon Hart and Dr. F. H. Hawk, all interested in property in the prescribed district. They announced that all property owners within the district, with two or three exceptions, had signed an agreement to pay a taxation of $1 per front foot for the immediate action.

Four blocks of Center and four of Los Angeles streets will be lighted, the territory extending from Emily to Clementina and from Cypress to Broadway. It is the intention to erect one post on the corner of each block and two between the corners, making 64 posts in all. A cluster of five lights will top each of the posts, all of them to shine until 9 o'clock, and one from that hour until morning. The delegation asked the trustees to proceed under the street lighting act, because of the two or three objectors, and agreed to pay the expense incurred by such procedure. Accordingly City Attorney Ames was instructed to begin at once on the necessary initial steps. Mr. Ames was also requested to communicate with the telephone companies relative to placing their wires underground along these streets and removing their poles. They had previously signified a willingness to do this. Many persons living farther out on Center and Los Angeles streets have asked that the system be extended, but the committee in charge of the work decided to delay no longer in getting the matter started. The lights will eventually be extended the full length of these streets, it is believed. The city will purchase the posts; which will cost in the neighborhood of $45 each.

NATURAL GAS IS IN BIG DEMAND

Natural Product and Lower Prices Cause Big Increase in Business

President F. R. Bain of the Southern Counties Gas Company, which recently connected its mains with Fullerton natural gas wells in order to supply its customers in Santa Ana, Orange and Fullerton, told the State Railroad Commission that the company had voluntarily reduced its rates 50 cents per thousand feet.
C. F. Newton, a trustee of Orange, opposed the new rate on the ground that a lower cut should be made, and he asked that the present reduced rates be impounded pending an investigation by the commission. Commissioner Loveland refused to impound the rates collected but stated that an inquiry into the new rate would be made.

In relating the shift of the company from manufactured gas to natural gas in order to supply consumers, President Bain said that during the six weeks since the installation of the natural gas the business of the company had increased 400 per cent.
Credit was given to the decrease in price for this sudden jump in business, the rate for manufactured gas being $1.25 per thousand feet against 75 cents for the natural gas.
The ratification of the contract between the Petroleum Development Company and the Southern Counties Gas Company was covered during the hearing.
The contract calls for a daily supply of 1,000,000 feet of gas at 8 cents per 100 and the authorization by the railroad commission of the issuance of $240,500 6 per cent bonds as well as the renewal of $23,000 6 and 7 per cent notes, all outstanding.—Oil World, Bakersfield.

Los Angeles Produce Market

Local ranch eggs jumped 2 cents yesterday, making an advance of 3 cents since the first of the week. Although the fundamental reason for the advance is the scarcity of local stock, the chief happening to bring it about was the rise of 1/2 cents in San Francisco prices. Receipts of local stock are light. Eastern eggs are in fair supply, however, and Chinese eggs, contrary to conditions a few weeks ago, are moving slowly. With the higher prices for fresh stock the demand for the Oriental product should pick up. These eggs will help to offset, at least to an extent, the seasonal upward tendency, as long as they are obtained in sufficient quantities to supply the trade, as appears likely.

The butter market is very steady. A good demand is in evidence, but receipts are well maintained. A strengthening tendency will soon put in an appearance, and then higher prices are expected. The cheese market continues unsettled. Some dealers report they are unable to unload carload lots at 1/2 cent under the nominal market, at 1/2 cents a pound. Eastern lines are firmer than a week ago, but local cheese continues very easy.

The first quinces of the season were received and offered at $1.50 a box. They were locally produced. The fruit market was about unchanged, except in some minor respects. Lemons and limes are both off 25 cents. Nectarines are a shade easier. Local cantaloupes are now supplying the demand; Imperial product is gradually going out of season. A large shipment of casahuate was received. Reported receipts of fruit and melons were: Apricots, 1500 boxes; cantaloupes, 365 crates; peaches, 1485 boxes; watermelons, 4 cars.

Whittall Rugs

The problem of floor covering is the first essential of interior decoration. When you enter a house your glance rests on the floor; your first impressions, always the most lasting, prejudice the mind favorable or unfavorable in regard to the taste displayed by the owner of the house; quality, coloring and design influence you intuitively.

The Oriental Rug is without question the acme of perfection when fine examples are considered. The market today is flooded with new productions of Oriental Rugs cleverly "treated" or "doctored" to obtain that antique effect; even these are held at prices far beyond the reach of the majority of people of refined tastes.

It has been the aim of M. J. Whittall, the leading manufacturer of high-grade rugs in the United States, to develop rugs to the point of excellency where they rival the imported rug in fineness of weave, superiority of design, lasting color and esthetic value.

The worth of the Oriental school is acknowledged by the Whittall factory, from which they have developed colorings and designs. Many of the Whittall Rugs are copied from rare examples of some of the original Oriental patterns that are held by collectors who prize them at fabulous prices on account of their rarity of design and marvel of color.

Whittall domestic reproductions of Oriental examples offered by us at reasonable prices could not be purchased in the originals for hundreds and sometimes thousands of dollars. Some of the finest of these examples will actually outwear most Orientals. Wearing qualities are combined with artistic designs and colorings.

No Purchaser of a Whittall Rug Has to Contend With the Vexatious Problem of the Good Sense of Harmony

We have recently added the Whittall line, including the Anglo-Persian, the Finest Rug made in America; the Anglo-Indian and their High-grade Body Brussels. These Rugs are within the reach of all who want a Rug of Quality.

BEGIN HAULING BEETS TO FACTORY

Co-Operative Plant Receives First Carloads of Season; Campaign Opens July 20

Sugar beets began arriving at the factory of the Santa Ana Co-operative Sugar company this morning. Officials of the company said today that the season's sugar-making campaign would begin Monday, July 20. From now until about ten days after the season opens the factory will receive from 500 to 600 tons of beets daily. After that the amount will probably go to about 1000 tons each day.

The Southern California Sugar company has not yet determined upon the date when it will begin receiving beets. This plant expects to start its campaign about August 1.

Taking of testimony is progressing somewhat more rapidly in the Yorba Linda water case. Yesterday afternoon and this morning Mr. Parmenter, one of the land holders, was on the stand and explained his dealings in the purchase of the property. He said that he had been made clearly to understand that $50 per acre of the purchase price was definitely set aside for water rights, contradicting statements formerly made by Mr. Janss. He stood a lengthy cross-examination well.

Before leaving the stand yesterday Jacob Stern admitted, after considerable verbal sparring, that it had been understood that when the contract holders paid up and got their deeds that was all they were to be expected to pay.

C. F. Klingberg, a Whittier merchant, is on the stand this afternoon.

BRITISH COLUMBIA NOW FACES GENERAL STRIKE

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 16.—The British Columbia labor convention decided yesterday to call a general strike of labor forces in British Columbia because of conditions which have arisen out of the miners' strike on Vancouver Island. A referendum vote of the unions is necessary before actual strike can be made effective. This operation will take at least six weeks. The vote stood yesterday 48 to 36.

FAMINE IS MENACING DOMINICAN REBELS

DE GERIN URGES FRENCH BOYCOTT OF 1915 FAIR

PARIS, July 16.—A statement urging French exporters to boycott the Panama Exposition was issued by Dr. De Gerin, who was a member of a jury at the St. Louis Exposition.

"Not only is the cost of transportation to San Francisco enormous," he says, "but the risk of loss by breakage and the customs vexations are considerable. California is inhabited only by miners and ranchers who want no French works of art or Paris luxuries. California knows nothing about art. Only recently I saw the curator in a big California city hang a common colored reproduction of a painting in an art gallery."

HUNGARY PLANS FOR NATION'S CHILD BUREAU

BUDAPEST, July 16.—Taking its cue from the United States, the Hungarian government plans to establish a national children's bureau. The purpose is to concentrate the present activities of the state, the municipalities and public societies into a central department which will in effect be a Ministry of Child Welfare. A bill on the subject introduced in Parliament has met with generous support and is expected to be adopted shortly. One clause provides for the special care and training of any children in whom unusual talent, in science or art, may be discovered.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain into part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

WANT NELSON LICENSE BACK

State Motor Department Places Matter in Hands of Local Justice

Justice of the Peace Cox this morning received a letter from W. R. Ormsby, superintendent of the state motor vehicle department, inquiring as to the operator's license of Harold Nelson, which was cancelled by Justice Cox following that accident on North Main street in which Nelson's sister was severely injured. Ormsby said in his letter that he had written Nelson on July 1, asking a return of the license, but had received no reply, although he had Nelson's receipt for the letter, which was registered. He asked that the matter be placed in the hands of an officer and Nelson requited to surrender the license.

Justice Cox turned the matter over to one of the motorcycle officers, with instructions to see Nelson and give him warning as to operating a car while without a license. The authorities had received reports that Nelson had been driving a car since his license was suspended.

Fullerton P. M. Fined

L. C. Edwards, postmaster at Fullerton, paid a fine of $5 in Justice Cox's court this morning for operating an auto at night without proper lights.

He was caught by a motorcycle officer on the state highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana.

ENRAGED BULL CAGED IN MY LADY'S CHAMBER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—An unruly bull broke loose from a bunch of cattle unloaded early yesterday on the Embarcadero, and dashing through the downtown business districts with a vaquero in full chase, galloped up Nob Hill into the thick of the apartment houses.

Terrified, the bull butted into an apartment house hallway, shivering the door. To the amazement and terror of the tenants the animal kept on up three flights of stairs, butting in doors. On the fourth floor the vaquero cornered him, but it was necessary to back him into a lady's bed chamber before he could be turned around and led downstairs.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The president today refused absolutely to withdraw the nomination of Thomas Jones to the federal reserve board despite the refusal of the senate committee to confirm him. IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and removing dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Advertisement.

THE GUNBOAT OUT FOR TITLE

If He Wins From Carpenter He Becomes Champ and Gets $25,000

11,000 PERSONS ARE EXPECTED AT FIGHT

Londoners Agog Over Bout; First Time a Frenchman Has Tried for World Title

By Ed L. Keen

(Written for the United Press) LONDON, July 16.—Before an assemblage of 11,000 men and women Georges Carpentier, the boy wonder of France, will try tonight to capture from Gunboat Smith, American ex-bluejacket, the white heavyweight championship of the world, and incidentally win a flat purse of $25,000, the largest ever offered in England. The scene is the big West End enclosure Olympia, and the fact that the most successful performances hitherto staged there was a play called "The Miracle" is regarded by the Frenchman's supporters as a most propitious omen.

As the odds as the contest promises to be, according to the dope of fistic experts generally, it has been proven to be the most popular of the present unusually active boxing season in this country. A month ago the regular $50 ringside seats were going at a premium, and today found the "bookings" agencies unable to supply any more of even the $1.25 variety, located a furlong or so from the center of the arena. English fight fans have taken especial interest in the match on account of Carpentier's previous sensational defeats of Bombardier Wells, the British heavyweight, and because this is the first time in history that a Frenchman has fought for a world's title. As in the case of the Welsh-Ritchie fight of last week a considerable portion of the audience will be woman.

The Gunboat, whose other name is Edward, does not share the over-confidence that his friends display. "Although I'm pretty sure I'll win," he said this morning to the United Press, "I'm not making the mistake of regarding it all over before I step under the ropes. I know they tell me it's a cinch, but I've met 'cinches' like this before and have gotten the worst that ever happened. I have 36 knockouts to my credit, and I hope to make Carpentier No. 37—but I'm going to make a clean job of it from the start, and not take any chances."

Carpentier, despite the odds of size and weight and record of past performances against him, is apparently cheerful, but he frankly admits that he is up against the toughest proposition he has yet encountered. "I have a great respect for Gunboat Smith's punch," he said, "but I hope to beat him. If not, I shall have gone down before the best white man in the world."

The French champion, who arrived here only three days ago, has been undergoing five weeks of strenuous training at Manot, France—a longer period than he has devoted to preparation for any of his previous matches. His manager, Descamps, says the boy has never been in finer form.

"Georges will win. Vive la France!" he shouted with Gallic enthusiasm. On the morning of Wells' 73-second defeat last December before the National Sporting Club it was Descamps, by the way, who predicted confidently that Carpentier would win in one round.

Smith has been training at Harrow-on-the-Hill, near London, and has pleased the critics immensely. Such a fine judge as Eugene Corri, England's most famous referee, remarked today, "Gunboat Smith is not only a real good fellow, but a born fighter. I think he will win, and win comfortably."

Only once has the American met with defeat, and that was in 1910 when Jim Barry beat him in nine rounds. Since then he has beaten Bombardier Wells, British champion, in two rounds; George Rodol of South Africa, in three rounds; Jim Flynn in five rounds; Carl Morris in five rounds and Tony Ross in ten rounds. He beat Sam Langford over the 12-round course and gave the Boston Tar Baby all he wanted. Carpentier has beaten Wells twice but in the first match, at Ghent two years ago, the Frenchman took the count of nine, and the experts haven't yet ceased wondering why Wells wasn't able to wade in and finish him. He has lost to Papke, Klaus and Jeannette, and as Langford has beaten the mulatto, the Gunboat on form certainly ought to find the Frenchman easy picking tonight.

The men are expected to take the ring about 10 o'clock, the contest being 20 rounds, Queensbury rules. J. T. Halls, of the "Sporting Life," will referee, and there will be two judges, a new departure in the English ring.

FREDDIE WELSH, NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP

Freddie Welsh, new lightweight champion of the world, by virtue of one of those British decisions "on points," is another one of the class of fighters the fans love to call a "gentleman pugilist." He is not rough and ready, burly, uncouth, vulgar, nor drunken. In fact, were it not for his one "tin ear" and his great nervous energy, he might pass ordinarily for anything but a fighter.

With the victory of Welsh, vegetarianism will get a boost. Welsh has always claimed to be a vegetarian, though many persons have suspected he did it for advertising purposes. He insisted he lived mostly on peanuts.

He was generally believed till he was caught a few months ago in a quiet Los Angeles roadhouse stuffing away a large chicken with the same ardor that Jack Johnson would display.

When he came to the United States he was a rubber in Brown's Gymnasium on Twenty-third street, New York City. He did odd jobs for a long time, and there acquired a taste for boxing. Learning a little about it he went out through the country and managed to make his living by fighting. After several years he became pretty well known. He went to England and won the British lightweight championship. Then along came Matt Wells, another Britisher, and took it from him. Welsh made another trip to the United States and again going back to London he fought Wells and regained his championship.

He has been fighting a long time; his muscles have begun to show traces of stiffening, and few experts believed he would be as fast as he was in the past. They, therefore, picked Ritchie to beat him. But Welsh was evidently as good as ever in the London fight. Maybe peanuts have had something to do with his ability to hold his form so long.

He is a very clever boxer and has a dazzling way of holding and blocking the heavy fighters. But he doesn't hit hard. He taps rapidly and gets away. The British call that fighting in the United States. Welsh has never been popular. He doesn't have the punch, and American fight fans refuse to take very seriously a fighter who does nothing but peck away at his opponent piling up "points."

It is the general opinion of American experts that Welsh will not hold his title long, not if he will consent to meet Ritchie in a thirty or forty-round fight.

An interesting feature in connection with the event is the insurance policy taken out at Lloyd's by Dick Burge, who is staging the show. For a premium of $1000 Burge is guaranteed $10,000 by the underwriters should the contest be prevented by illness of either of the principals, or for any other reason.

CARPENTIER AN 8 TO 5 FAVORITE OVER SMITH LONDON, July 16.—The largest crowd that ever attended a prize fight in London is expected to see "Gunboat" Smith of America and Georges Carpentier of France, scheduled for a twenty-round bout tonight. Carpentier is an eight to five favorite. Advance sales are reported to have reached $70,000. Hundreds of women have taken reservations for the fight.

STAGS BATTLE HINTS ON BEST ROUTES FOR AUTOS

Larson, Kid Twirler for Felines, Said to Be a Marvel

AFFRAY PROMISES TO BE A REAL GAME

Moose in Front Ranks of San Juan Hot Springs Road in Southern California Semi-Pro Teams

By HOMER RUNNE

Deck, the local ball magnate, seems to have kicked things into shape for a good session out at Moose Park Sunday, the Los Angeles Tigers being scheduled to meet the Stags.

There is a fairly plump chance of its being a real honest to goodness ball game. Several facts lead to this supposition. One of them is the twirler for the Angel City Tigers, one L. Larson, is said to be the best eighteen-year-old heavier in Southern California. Another fact is that the Tigers, formerly the Tribunes, make up one of the fastest teams that Los Angeles boasts.

The pitching duel between Shorty Brown of the Stags, and Kid Larson, of the Tigers, promises to be one of the most interesting events staged here in many a day.

McGaffey will do the clutching for the Midge. These two performers generally give a pretty good account of themselves and it is safe to say that it is not entirely the fault of the Stags' battery that a gaunt jinx has been stalking obliviously about the local ball yard during several of the recent affrays.

Luxembourger will officiate on the initial value, as usual. Little Lee Brown, than whom there is no speedier, headier man cavorting for the Moose, will be in evidence on the second hazzack. West will be found on the third scotch.

Kelly, the Terrible, who has a reputation of flourishing a most devastating bludgeon in any game he enters in, will do the agricultural act in the right domain. Freeman will be the center gardener and Allen will trot in left. Duhart will be espied at short.

The Stags, drat 'em, need only to do a little tightening up to give the local bugs a taste of what real ball playing is like. With only one or two exceptions Deck's artists show considerable facility with the club, being able to flatten the bulb at practically all times when base knocks are most needed. Up until this time it has been the Stags' inability to keep from dirtying up the error column that has been responsible for some of the juvenile exhibitions lately pulled off here. However, the errors epidemic simply cannot go on forever, like Tennyson's brook. The disease is bound to be knocked in the head sooner or later and it is as likely to happen this coming Sunday as at any other time. And if it does happen a real ball game will be in evidence.

According to the Los Angeles Examiner the teams that have been showing the greatest class to date are the Redondo, Santa Ana, Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Moose clubs. From the same source comes the information that great interest is being manifested in the semi-professional baseball games in and about the Angel City.

CALIFORNIANS WIN IN OREGON TOURNEY PORTLAND, July 16.—California players are steadily mowing down Portland and Vancouver, Wash., aspirants in the Oregon state tennis championships on Multnomah courts. Henry Breck, H. V. D. Johns, R. J. Greenberg and R. Roberts of San Francisco were successful in the matches yesterday in straight sets. H. Levinson of San Francisco succumbed to Johns, 10-8, 6-2. Oregon has but two men left who may show in the semi-finals or finals, viz.: Wickersham, ex-champion, and W. A. Goss, formerly northwest champion.

Today the battle between the Californians for place in the semi-finals began.

The Hayloft Through all the pleasant meadow-side

The grass grew shoulder high. Till the shining scythes went far and wide

And cut it down to dry. These green and sweetly smelling crops

They led in waggon home; And they piled them here in mountain-tops

For mountaineers to roam. Here is Mount Clear, Mount Rusty-Nail,

Mount Eagle, and Mount High. O what a joy to clamber there,

O what a place for play. With the sweet, the dim, the dusty air, The happy hills of hay.

West Chapman Street Bridge Closed—Detours Necessary North of Mother Colony

OLD ROAD TO COUNTY PARK IS THE BEST

San Juan Hot Springs Road in Bad Shape—Laguna Canyon Still Closed

Motorists contemplating trips to various points of the county will do well to remember that roadwork is still being done in various sections and that it is necessary for this reason to make detours.

The West Chapman-street bridge was closed yesterday in order that it may be re-planked. According to reports this work will take about two weeks. In order to get to Anaheim it is now necessary to go by way of Seventeenth street or via Olive.

The direct road from Anaheim to Fullerton is still closed. The best way to get to Fullerton is to turn east at the corner of Los Angeles and Center streets, Anaheim, and to follow the boulevard until the northeast corner of the Chapman ranch is reached. From the latter point follow the boulevard straight to Fullerton. Road work is in progress north of Fullerton and this section is not open to travel. For this reason it is advisable to go by way of Brea and La Habra, or Artesia.

Reports this morning are to the effect that the road to San Juan Hot Springs is in very bad condition as a consequence of road work in progress and several bad crossings.

Automobile parties desiring to go to Riverside and San Bernardino are advised to turn to the left about three miles above Olive, near Yorba, and to follow the railroad for about five miles. After this, when the Santa Ana canyon is reached the roads are good. Boulevard is reached after leaving the canyon and the remainder of the traveling to Riverside and other inland cities is excellent.

Owing to work being done near El Modena the best way to get to the Orange County Park and other points in the Santiago canyon is to take what is known as the old road, the one to the north of El Modena.

The highway work on the road to Newport Beach and Balboa is now completed from Thurin on to the coast.

The Laguna canyon road is still closed, and, according to reports will remain so for the summer. The best way to get to Laguna is via Capistrano and along the coast. The road through the Aliso canyon is practically impassable.

RECENT REO SALES BY THE LOCAL FIRM

Mr. M. Nasatir, 109 Orange avenue; Mr. Charles Schmiedeberg, 1208 Van Ness avenue, and Mrs. L. A. Roberts, all purchased Reo the Fifth motor cars during the past week.

"Mr. Schmiedeberg of Santa Ana is a pretty firm believer in Reo automobiles. Mr. Schmiedeberg and family recently returned from a trip east which included a short stop at the Reo factory. This visit stimulated a desire for a 1915 Reo, and immediately on his return Mr. Schmiedeberg ordered a new car," says Mr. L. G. Hill, with Wisdom & Company, local agents.

Mr. Schmiedeberg has been running a Reo for several years, having purchased one of the first models shown in Santa Ana.

Mr. Wisdom, of Wisdom & Company, Local Cole Distributors, Bidding Farewell to Joseph Krock and Sons, Starting on Trans-Continental Motor Trip

START OF A 25,000-MILE JAUNT TO ATLANTIC COAST AND BACK VIA NORTHWEST

Probably one of the longest automobile journeys ever attempted by an Orange county resident was started June 30, when Joseph Krock and his two sons of 1504 Hickey street, Santa Ana, embarked on what will be a jaunt of some twenty-five thousand miles. The party is headed for the Atlantic coast, following the old Santa Fe trail from here. On July 15 the party arrived at Raton, New Mexico, some fourteen hundred miles from Santa Ana, from which place was posted a letter which follows below.

It is Mr. Krock's intention to visit at his old home in Kenton, Ohio, for a time, and then continue to Washington, D. C., and on to New York. A full camping outfit was packed in the car, and included a small tent, bedding, extra electric wiring and lamps, and a small electric stove, to be attached to the electric system of the Cole. It is the party's intention to utilize their automobile for other purposes than transportation. Leaving the Atlantic coast, the route back will include a visit in the Pacific Northwest, and thence down the coast to the "best spot in the universe"—Orange County.

The following is the letter received from Joseph Krock, who is en route from Santa Ana to the Atlantic coast in a Cole motor car.

Holbrook, Arizona. Wisdom & Company, Santa Ana, Cal.—Gentlemen: We have been traveling in the mud for the last three hundred miles, and still mud. We forded a river fifty feet across this morning and went through mud so deep the hind axle dragged. We found four bridges out, and another is out two miles ahead of us. We have been going on our own power, and expect to keep on doing so. The Cole is like sauerkraut—every time you warm it up, the better it gets.

Yours respectfully, JOSEPH KROCK.

FANS BEGINNING TO DOPE POLY FOOTBALL FOR FALL

The "pig skin" fans are beginning to "dope" up the outlook for their team for next fall. Schedules have already been arranged so that all is in readiness for the third of the "snheroid" when the schools open.

Manager "Dutch" Holzgrafe has arranged one of the best schedules any manager has ever gotten for the local team. Long Beach, Pasadena and Chaffey will be met on the Poly grounds as will the Army and Navy, which opens the season. San Diego will be played in the south end city, giving the team the one best trip.

One of the treats of the schedule that the manager has arranged will be the game with the Occidental freshmen in a curtain raiser on Occidental field for the big game between the Occidental and U. S. C. Varsityes. This will give the boys not only a good game but a chance to see one of the best college games of the year.

FAILS IN TENTH SWIM IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

BOULOGNE, France, July 16.—Jabez Wolfe, the English amateur long-distance swimmer, yesterday started on his tenth attempt to swim across the English channel. He entered the water at 4 o'clock in the morning at Cape Griznez and had reached midchannel at 10:15 o'clock. A carrier pigeon sent up by his companions brought information that Wolfe was then swimming strongly. He was forced by a rising wind and sea to abandon his attempt.

The only two swimmers who have ever crossed the channel were Captain Matthew Webb in 1873 and William T. Burgess in 1911.

BOXERS SHOW CLASS AT SMOKER

Perry Yants Adds Another Victory to His List by Defeating Jack McEwing

BURRELL-MARTINEZ BOUT FAST AFFAIR

Fighting Lee Wins From Eddy Gary in Sixth—Entire Show Pleases

The Athletic Club smoker and boxing show last evening was an entertainment of real class. The program was a varied one with all kinds of boxing from that seen on the vaudeville stage to the more scientific exhibitions of the masters of the art.

The house was full to the doors and the huge crowd left the gym with expressions of approval and satisfaction on their faces.

The first bout of the evening, that between Dren Krauchi and Jack Johnson, Jr., the little heavyweights was one of the most laughable events of the evening and had the crowd in a roar of laughter all the way. The boys handled themselves well and the way they went after each other was very amusing. After four rounds of spectacular boxing, wrestling and hugging the go ended in a draw with honors even.

Joe Figman of Los Angeles and young Sharkey of Denver, Colo., came together in the second go of the evening and furnished a little of the old-style and hard hitting exhibited by both sides. Although the decision went to Figman it did not in any way detract from the tough little Denver boy.

In the next event Perry Yants of Los Angeles met Jack McEwing who was substituted for Art Reed. The first round was a whirlwind with plenty of hitting and ducking by both men and ended about even. In the second and first of the third Yants seemed to pick up and went after his man with a determination to win seldom seen in the ring. His punches had the force behind them and early in the third they began to tell on McEwing who was forced to the mat for the count. Both boys put up a good fight and gave the fans a run for their money. Yants, who has been winning by the one, two, three route lately, seems to be a comer, and should he keep at his present pace it is hard to say where he will end.

The fastest and most active bout so far held here was between John Burrell of Santa Ana and Jimmy Martinez of Anaheim. These two boys seemed to be on springs and danced around the ring in "double quick" time. During the whole four rounds there was not a clinch and the bout was marked by sharp, quick, hard blows, clever ducking and side stepping. The bout ended in a draw and was very popular with the fans.

Fighting Lee and Eddy Gary of Los Angeles went six fast rounds with the honors in favor of Lee. Both boys combine the clever with the aggressive and kept the fans on the watch all the way. Lee, who seems to have had the most experience many times tricked his opponent into dangerous places from which he escaped only after hard and fast work. The little fellows more than once had the fans guessing and the end came all too soon.

In the main event Joe White of San Gabriel met Abe Sherman of Los Angeles, who substituted for Johnny Arrosez, who was unable to appear. This go was somewhat a grudge match and was the second meeting of the boys. Both are hard hitting, aggressive little fighters, with Sherman much on the order of Ad Wolgast, while White has more of the Cross style of fighting. From the first tap of the gong the excitement started and did not let up till all was over at the end of the sixth when the decision went to White. White carried the fight to Sherman all the way, who persisted in holding on and playing the infighting game. Had Sherman played a little more openly he would have made out better with his shifty opponent.

This go was by far the most exciting of the evening and the end came much too soon. In this bout Referee Ellis was more than kept busy and the way he handled the boys in the clinch would make either a George Siler or a Charley Eytton jealous.

The smoker was in every way a complete success. The crowd was very orderly and the noise held to a minimum.

The wrestling match between Earl Young and Spud Morrison had to be postponed on account of the illness of Morrison.

JOE KNOWLES NOW READY FOR EXILE

Finishes Plans for Test of Man's Ability to Wrest Existence From Wilderness

GRANT'S PASS, Ore., July 16.—Joe Knowles, the Boston artist-nature man who is to enter the wilds of the Siskiyou mountains on the Oregon-California border nude and without food in an attempt to live 60 days as a primitive man, was here yesterday making final plans for his venture. He returned from a trip into the mountains to familiarize himself with the country, and leaves today for the interior.

With Knowles are his manager, A. L. Fairbrother, of Boston; Prof. Waterman of the University of California, and a number of photographers and newspaper men who will observe the experiment.

Knowles will leave the other members of the party behind Monday and plunge into the mountains. Headquarters for the party will be maintained here and a camp for the observers will be maintained at Josephine Caves, near Mt. Grayback.

TOWS A BOAT IN PRACTICE FOR ENGLISH CHANNEL SWIM

Sam Finkelman is preparing for his attempt to swim the English Channel in September, and his practice shows him doing stunts that no other swimmer has thought of. He has been swimming about New York bay with the end of a tow line of a small boat in his mouth, pulling it about.

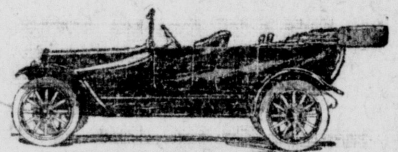

This playing tug is one of Finkelman's favorite pastimes, at least when he is training for a long distance race. He claims that it develops strength and endurance. His method of procedure is to seize the boat's painter between his teeth, then start out with a powerful stroke and pull the loaded craft after him. Several times in the past has he thus piloted a heavy skiff for miles.

$150,000 IN ESCROW FOR WORLD'S AERIAL FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—The $150,000 offered by the Panama Pacific International Exposition as a prize for an aerial race around the world in 1915, is in escrow in the Anglo London-Paris bank of this city and will be turned over to the Aero Club of America as soon as the club reaches a definite agreement with the exposition regarding the rules of the race.

This statement was made by representatives of the exposition here yesterday in response to an inquiry as to why the money had not been forwarded to the officials of the club.

The car built of heat treated steels—the Studebaker SIX

Steels specified by Studebaker to the best makers in America; tested and analyzed before acceptance.

Steels given two to four heat treatments by one or more of more than 100 scientific processes, in 142 furnaces—the largest heat treating plant in the industry.

Heat treatments, coupled with our close manufacturing methods, give the Studebaker SIX—in its perfect alignment and balance, roadability and freedom from vibration—its superiority over the assembled or semi-manufactured car.

The assembler cannot equal Studebaker SIX quality, because he can only buy the best parts he can get. Manufacturing methods less scientific, less exacting, cannot equal Studebaker SIX quality; and production of less volume cannot equal its value; in any car at any price.

Send for the Studebaker Proof Book, describing Studebaker manufacturing methods.

MAKE A MONKEY MIDGE BROWN? HUH!

There is nothing like having confidence in your team and your pitcher if you are a baseball manager. F. A. Houser, who has the destinies of the Santa Fe shop's team, of San Bernardino, in his hands, has sent the following letter to Manager Deck, of the Stags:

San Bernardino, Cal., July 14, 1914.

Dear Sir:
I would like to have a game with you, down there, about August 2 or 9. What chance is there for those dates? If not then, what dates have you open? When shall we play?

I think I have a team that can beat yours and make a monkey of your pitcher, Brown. I have a pitcher that is just about seventeen times as good as Brown, also a southpaw. He beat Brown once in that Southern California Class "D" League and is better than ever. Let me hear from you. Very truly, F. A. HOUSER.

Deck said this morning that he is anxious to make arrangements with Houser for a game soon in order to give the Santa Fe men a chance to prove what the "Berdo Wonder" has up his sleeve.

JAMES O'NEILL IN MOVING PICTURES AT THE TEMPLE THEATRE

Daniel-Frohman presents the eminent romantic actor—James O'Neill—in his famous version of Dumas' masterpiece—the "Count of Monte Cristo."

Commencing this afternoon the dramatic triumph of three decades—in five reels of motion pictures of the great actor and a great play. The story of this photoplay is well known even to the average school boy, but it loses none of its deep interest, and gains immensely in appreciation when presented in beautiful life-like pictures acting so realistic that spectators can almost hear as well as see the wonderful interpretation of this great masterpiece by one of the most noted stars in the dramatic profession.

James O'Neill, as Edmund Dantes, the young sailor, bidding his sweetheart a tender farewell, or as Captain Dantes celebrating his wedding feast, or as the condemned prisoner vainly endeavoring to dig his way to liberty, or as the free man on the lonely rock shouting "The World is Mine," through the whole gamut of experiences until, as the Count of Monte Cristo he rewards his friends and punishes his enemies James O'Neill stands without an equal in the interpretation of human emotions.

The Temple Theatre will present this beautiful play the remainder of the week and others of like interest will follow.

ORANGE COUNTY IOWANS ARE INVITED TO SUMMER PICNIC

There is always a lively interest in Santa Ana in the Iowa picnic announcements. There are not many cities in Southern California where there are more Hawkeyes in proportion to population than in our beautiful home town. There are two days in the year that stand out in the lives of the Iowans. Each year the great annual picnic on Washington's birthday, February 22nd, when the gathering draws scores of thousands to Eastlake Park, Los Angeles, and the second Saturday in August, when the Hawkeyes hike for beautiful Bixby Park in Long Beach.

This year the plans are being made on a larger scale than ever before, and 25,000 hungry Hawkeyes are expected to go with the big baskets for a jolly good time all day Sunday, August the 8th.

There will be representatives from almost every town and hamlet in Iowa and likewise almost every town, crossroads and hamlet in Southern California will furnish eager delegates.

Want to see a happy, jolly mass of folks? Just ride out to Bixby Park the 8th of August and look them over.

Every one from the good old Hawkeye State is invited and all are asked to bring the glad hand and the smile that won't come off and to make it a good day for all friends. The usual plans for coffee, registration and a fine social time with a brief program will be worked out.

Former Governor, and later Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw has been invited to deliver one of the addresses.

Sporting Briefs of the Week

[By Hal Sheridan]

NEW YORK, July 16.—Jack Johnson, artist's model, is the latest. Advertisers from Paris bring the dope on the Big Smoke. He is sitting for Herr Herman Haller, the well known German sculptor who says Johnson is a regular Adonis and owns the finest body in the world. Herr Haller has already completed one study of Johnson in clay but is trying again because he did not do the model justice, he says.

Johnson, watching the artist one day, remarked: "You and me is just alike; both of us can do anything we want to with our hands."

That Johnson has fought his last fight is the general opinion in Paris. Obviously on the decline as a boxer, he will be pie for the next half-way decent fighter that comes along. Since his defeat of Moran, June 27, his wine suppers, late hours and dissipation have commenced again in earnest and he says he doesn't care much "which way the wind blows" now. With a contract to drive "Excelsior" cars in the big European race meets for some time to come, and with money in the bank, he intends to take life easy. Those acquainted with him know what that means. Herr Haller, they say, caught Johnson in the nick of time for his bronze statue of the black champion. He may be expected to be developing soon into a model for a large, fat, butterball melanged somewhat freely with soot.

Whizzing into July the general trend of questions for an answer as to why the Giants should have reached this stage of the game is still in the lead. Turning into July the Giants led by a comfortable margin, not because they had played such all-fired good ball, but simply because no one else played as good as they did—which isn't saying much.

From June 1 to July 1, the Giants won just one series. They met every team in the league during that period and succeeded only in trouncing the Cincinnati Reds to any advantage. They broke even with the Phillies, Cardinals, Cubs and Pirates and then split fifty-fifty on six games with Boston. Having acquired the habit they split even with the Brooklyn Dodgers. This was right at the time Wilbert Robinson signed a three-year contract to manage Brooklyn and was desperate, however, so there is an alibi.

Looking back from June 1, there is considerable difference in the speed shown by the Giants and that uncorbed by the Cubs. In thirty-one games from that date Hank O'Day's men won twenty-one. The belief is growing that in the final shuffle it will be these ancient rivals who will be serving up the grand scramble. One by one the others have dropped off. The giants have not hit anything much faster than a dog trot, but the Pirates and the Reds have curled up along the roadside. The Cardinals have hung on and though St. Louis is the only team in the league which has held the Giants even in games played, Miller Huggins is not figured to have the punch in reserve to put over a finish drive.

In the American league the pair of Sox are coming fast. The White Sox fairly brined up the field as they ziped through late June and early July, thereby participating in the festivities which gave Chicago the sight of three home teams making drives which carried them up among the leaders. The Red Sox also began to gather speed. Connie Mack took an early lead, but before the finish an old-fashioned, wide-open American league scrap may be on the bills. The Mackian artillery opened up at one stage and threatened to shoot away all ground on which a foot-hold might be obtained between the players and humanity in general. They either ran out of powder or Mack decided shooting might be better along in August or September. The result was a cessation of the general slaughter and early July found the Athletics hopping just about three jumps in the lead of five yelping teams, all clamoring for a taste of Mackian gore.

Taking up the question of June 1 again and trailing it along, it may be discovered that out of thirty-five games after that date the Athletics won but twenty and lost fifteen, which isn't such a swift gait as to make one dizzy. Washington and Detroit were putting up the chief objections to the claims of Mack to a cut in on the World's series at that period, but they did just a little bit worse, than the Athletics during this same period. Detroit lost fifteen and won eighteen games. Washington won fifteen and lost seventeen. The St. Louis Browns have kicked along in persistent fashion, but it is that pair of Sox which Mack hopes to shoot off the line to keep the circuit clear for World's series operations. The White Sox won twenty games and lost but ten right after June 1, which is the fastest stuff shown in the circuit. The Red Sox won twenty-one and lost fifteen games along the same period. Gilt edge pitching has carried both the White and Red Sox along. They have it on the Athletics in the pitching department and heavy slugging is ahead for the Mackian throng if they hold the lead at the finish.

1915 COLE

"THE STANDARDIZED CAR"

Four Cylinder $1790 here

Why are competitors trying to adopt the word "STANDARDIZATION?"

STANDARDIZATION was originated by the COLE MOTOR CAR COMPANY of Indianapolis, Indiana, and its possibilities have finally been grasped by other manufacturers, who have since been endeavoring to follow the COLE policy.

It is impossible to point to a single part on the 1915 COLE, that is not used on cars selling as high as double the price of the COLE.

This sounds ridiculous does it not? But get down to facts—make the matter of purchasing an automobile a purely business proposition. A banker of this city recently said "For the life of me I cannot see why people do not buy automobiles just as they would any other business investment." Bankers as a rule are SHREWD men. They KNOW VALUES. They know the rules of GOOD BUSINESS.

Here are a few of the vital parts you will find in the COLE: COLE NORTHWAY MOTOR—Self lubricating. You will find this motor in cars selling up to twice the price of the COLE. One manufacturer has recently adopted this motor on his car selling at almost three times the price of the COLE.

DELCO ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT: Not a Junior, but the largest and strongest DELCO system manufactured. The standard starting and lighting apparatus.

TIMKEN TAPERED ROLLER BEARINGS—Adjustable for wear. On cars selling at twice the price of the COLE.

TIMKEN AXLES—Rear Full Floating—The largest and strongest axles made for pleasure cars. On machines selling at three times the price of the COLE.

DETROIT STEEL PRODUCTS SPRINGS! Guaranteed for the life of the car. On automobiles selling as high as $4500.

SPICER UNIVERSAL JOINTS: On cars selling at double the price of the COLE.

TIRES AND QUICK DETACHABLE DEMOUNTABLE RIMS: FIRESTONE—the recognized standard of the world.

COLE WARNER VACUUM GASOLINE SYSTEM: A new invention that will be found on every high class and high priced 1915 car as soon as manufacturers can dispose of their output which carries the old system.

The above is an outline of the parts on an automobile that are subject to the most severe strains. We could go on through the entire list and make the same comparisons if space would permit. Everyone is asking how such a thing is possible. Just THINK for a moment.

This is a day of specialization—in other words standardization. The COLE is built all the way through by specialists, and that is the reason the motorwise are flocking to the STANDARDIZED car—the COLE.

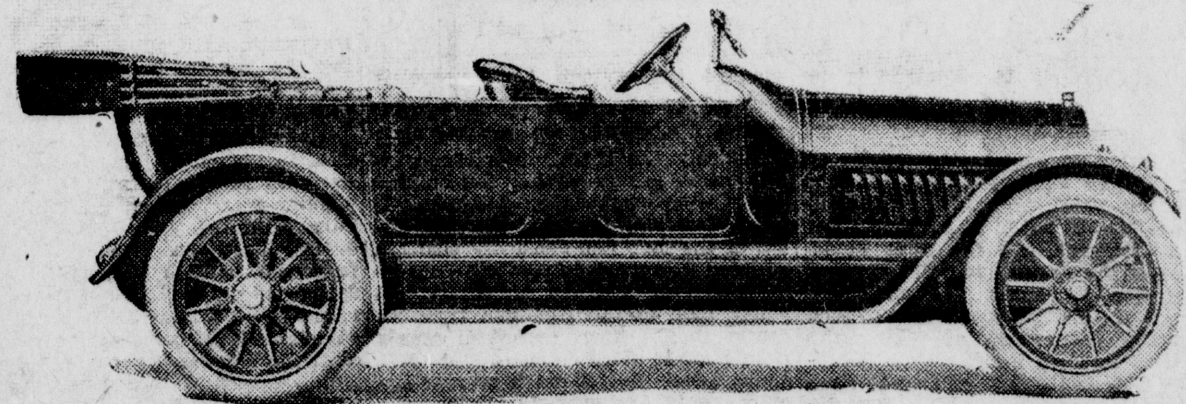

A demonstration will convince. We are ready any time.

WHAT IS DOING ABROAD

(By Ed. L. Keen, London Correspondent United Press)

LONDON, July 14.—England is undeniably on the verge of lynch law. The constantly increasing seriousness of militant outrages, the confessed inability of Scotland Yard to cope with the "wild women," the lamentable failure of the Cat and Mouse law as a deterrent, and the utter inadequacy of the remedy recently opposed by House Secretary McKenna have brought the British public face to face with the proposition of taking the law into its own hands.

Since McKenna has refused to heed the popular demand of "let them die in prison," those who have watched the growing ugliness of the crowds in the public parks where the "outrages" attempt to hold their meetings are convinced that the time is not far distant when the cry will be taken up of "Kill them!" In the past few weeks many of these meetings have been broken up, and in numerous instances the women have narrowly escaped serious injury at the hands of the disturbers. On several occasions only the timely interference of the police has prevented the suffragettes being ducked—or drowned. It is a noteworthy fact that the complexion of the mob has decidedly changed of late. Whereas formerly it consisted mostly of boys out for a lark and young men of the Hooligan type, recently it has been recruited largely from men of more or less respectable appearance. But of much greater significance is the attitude taken by a number of the police magistrates who have been called upon to try the disturbers. In no case has severe punishment been inflicted. Nominal fines have been the limit. In frequent instances the prisoners have been dismissed with a warning—and the warning has been couched in such terms as to indicate that the magistrate really didn't mean it to be taken very seriously. In fact, in one case where the prisoner was accused of being the ringleader of a mob that had destroyed a suffragette platform and attempted to duck one of the speakers, the magistrate took occasion, in dismissing the charge, to comment on the "extreme provocation" offered by the women.

The recent tone of the English papers in handling suffragettes news has also served to fan the flames of popular anger against the women who burn churches, blow up coronation chairs, and—what is least forgivable from the British standpoint—insult their sovereign. The opposition press naturally lambasts the government in season and out for its inaptitude, but even the Liberal papers have now begun to demand that "something be done" to save the country from the menace of mob rule.

McKenna's belated scheme of trying to put the Women's Social and Political Union out of business by proceeding in the civil courts against the wealthy and important contributors to its funds is generally regarded as both futile and puerile. The active suffragettes themselves simply laugh at it. Christabel Pankhurst, safely refuted in Paris, is the custodian of a war-chest already sufficiently ample to keep the flag of militancy waving for several years to come. As for the wealthy and important contributors, few of them have displayed any signs of nervousness at the government's latest "remedy." For such as are really afraid of McKenna's threats, Lloyd's underwriters are prepared to take the risk at a premium so small as to indicate that these astute financiers consider the success of McKenna's scheme about as long a shot as the prospect of the arrival of triplets in the average family. The other day a member of the peerage took out a policy to indemnify him against the possible legal consequences of his wife's rather generous suffragette subscription. For $375 the underwriters agreed to make good on any verdict returned against her in this connection in the next two years up to $100,000.

Another way of getting from under, should McKenna attempt seriously to carry out his present program, is suggested by a statement recently circulated by one of the anti-suffragette organizations. An unnamed lady private detective is quoted as saying: "I know of a number of wealthy society people who have paid large subscriptions to the militants expressly for the purpose of escaping the molestation at their hands. Several such persons who used to employ me to guard their homes, their pictures, statuary, and china, during big entertainments at their homes, have notified me that my services are no longer required. They told me frankly that it was cheaper, and quite as effective, to pay the militants directly."

In the meantime, so damaging to the cause of woman suffrage have become the activities of the "furries"—in the opinion of many influential members of parliament who really favor giving women the vote—that the constitutional suffragettes are being urged to concentrate their efforts in a vigorous campaign against the Pankhurst. For instance, said Philip Snowden, M. P., leader of the Socialistic party: "Although the criminal deeds of these wild women have not killed the movement for woman suffrage they have made it a dead issue so far as the present House of Commons is concerned. It is not that members of Parliament have altered their views as to the justice and expediency of woman suffrage, but militancy has brought about an extremely difficult situation, and for the present its friends feel that they can best serve the cause by waiting."

DA SILVA MUST PAY $10,000 TO LILLIAN; OTHER HEART BALMS

For the loss of "gobs, scads and oodles of love," Miss Lillian D. Kelly, the pretty Chicago girl suing Juan C. Da Silva, wealthy young Frenchman, for $25,000 damages, was last night awarded $10,000 in Judge Wilbur's court, says the Los Angeles Examiner.

Shortly before 5 o'clock the case reached the hands of a jury of middle-aged men and shortly before 9 o'clock the verdict, the third largest ever rendered in this county in a similar case, was returned.

Heart Balm Verdicts

The largest heart balm verdict was rendered in the case of Miss Louise Hayward against Dr. Henderson Hayward and his two children. The second was the $15,000 verdict handed down in the alienation suit of Mrs. Orris O. Budd against Mrs. Ida A. Morgan, the "desert queen."
